

5 Local Trout Steams

Trout Run

Trout Run is a stream located just 5.8 miles from Jonestown, near Green Point, PA.

Tulpehocken Creek

Tulpehocken Creek rises in eastern Lebanon County, Pennsylvania, and flows generally east, in a winding course, through Myerstown, entering Berks County, passing north of Womelsdorf. At Womelsdorf it turns abruptly north, then flows southeast, through the Blue Marsh Lake reservoir and joins the Schuylkill at Reading.

Hammer Creek

Hammer Creek is a 19.2-mile-long tributary of Cocalico Creek in Lebanon County. Hammer Creek is dammed to form Speedwell Forge Lake

Quittapahilla Creek

Quittapahilla Creek (nicknamed the "Quittie") is a 16.8-mile-long tributary of Swatara Creek. Quittapahilla Creek rises in eastern Lebanon County, flows west-southwest through Lebanon and Annville, and joins Swatara Creek northeast of Palmyra.

Snitz Creek

The Snitz Creek flows northward into the Quittapahilla Creek (a tributary of the Swatara Creek) in Cleona.

